VOL. XXVII.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1905.

NO. 135.

Army Blue Cloth Suits,

WORTH $15 FOR $10.

A LARGE woolen cloth manufacturer in the East, on account of a strike, failed to deliver on time a large quantity of extra heavy Blue Army Cloth for the United States Army, and had the entire lot of many thousand yards thrown on his hands, and being in need of ready money, he accepted an offer of

HALF-PRICE

from a large clothing manufacturer for the entire lot. We have just received about seventy-five Men's Suits made of this cloth and are offering them at the remarkably low price of $10.00.

Sizes 35-44.

We also are having some of the same cloth made into Men's Overcoats and will receive them in about 10 days. This is truly an opportunity to buy winter clothing that can hardly be worn out, that will shed water like a rubber coat and is as heavy and warm as cloth can be made, and in this time of high prices for all woolen goods, it makes it all the greater bargain.

United States Army Shoes.

Don't forget the U. S. Army Shoes we are selling at $2.50. Six hundred pairs were sold in one week.

CAUGHT BY A CABOOSE.

Two Men and Four Horses Injured and Wagon Put Out of Business.

DAMAGES ADJUSTED.

Seven Men's Narrow Escape From Death.

A collision which came near being fatal to eight men, occurred Wednesday morning at the intersection of Sixth street and the L. & N. railroad. Only by the merest chance were six of the eight men uninjured, but two horses and a wagon were caught by the caboose of a train which was backed up on a switch. The wagon was nearly broken all to pieces and two of the four horses drawing it were badly used up. Edward Tandy, the driver, had one of his knees badly fractured and Joe Hampton, who was on the seat with him, sustained several injuries.

There were four horses attached to the wagon and the eight men had just gotten into the wagon in Mr. L. H. Davis' shed alongside the railroad. They had started to their work on the dam being built for the Hopkinsville Water Co. by Mr. Davis. The train backed up noiselessly on the switch and the engineer not seeing the team which was crossing the track, the caboose struck the wagon with the above result.

Superintendent John W. Logsdon, with his accustomed prompt action, sent Mr. Leslie, the stock claim adjuster, here yesterday afternoon to adjust all claims for damages.

MAUSOLEUM COMPLETED.

An Imposing and Enduring Pile of Granite.

REMAINS DEPOSITED.

Greatest Ornament in Our City of the Dead.

The Latham mausoleum is practically completed and the deceased members of the family were exhumed and placed in the magnificent granite resting place last week.

The work of erection has been going on since about the middle of August. The walls, roof and steps leading to the door are of granite, as are the Corinthian columns of the porch. The partitions and inside walls are of the most beautiful and expensive American white marble, about an inch in thickness. There are twelve compartments, which are sufficient to contain the deceased and living members of the family and immediate relatives.

Mr. John C. Latham has been here for two weeks to witness the completion of the structure and superintend the removal of the bodies of the members of the family from their first resting place. The two blocks of granite forming the roof and the walls are the largest ever handled here and required eight horses to draw them from the cars which brought them from the East. Every piece of the structure had been cut to exact size and marked before being shipped from the quarries. An expert was sent by the contractors and everything went together so perfectly that it was scarcely necessary to use a chisel at all.

This is by far the most imposing thing in Hopewell, with, probably, the exception of Mr. Latham's monument to the "Unknown Confederate Dead," which stands only a short distance south of the mausoleum.

Mr. Latham is expending a great deal of money on the place where his beloved dead are to forever rest, and the mausoleum and outside ornamentation will cost not far from, if not exceed, $30,000. Of course the ground surrounding it will always be kept in perfect condition and next spring will be ornamented with flowers and shrubs. Looking at the vast pile of granite one cannot, when the imagination attempts to peer through the vista of a thousand future years, but exclaim: There is something that the mutation of time cannot destroy and nothing but the earthquake cast down—"A thousand years will be as one day" to it.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Causes Death of W. R. Harris at Herndon.

Mr. William R. Harris died Thursday morning at his home in Herndon of Bright's Disease. He had been in bad health for some time, but was only confined to his bed a few days. Mr. Harris was fifty-seven years old and is survived by one child, a daughter, who lives in Hopkins county. He was at one time engaged in the grocery business at Princeton, but moved to Christian county probably fifteen years ago, and had since resided at Herndon. For several years he conducted a store at the latter place and was proprietor of the Herndon hotel.

The remains were brought here Thursday night and shipped to Madisonville, where they were interred yesterday.

Getting Ready for Transfer.

Officials of the Illinois Central Railway and the Southern have announced that they will be in Nashville about Nov. 15 or 16 for the purpose of arranging many of the details necessary to taking over the Tennessee Central road on Dec. 1.

Mrs. Charles Metcalfe, of Princeton, is visiting Mrs. T. L. Metcalfe.

AFTER THE BATTLE NOTES.

Some of the Incidents of the Recent Election in the County.

GLAD IT IS ALL OVER.

Republicans Are Disposed to Be Very Sore Over Their Defeat.

Dave Smith "mysteriously disappeared" Wednesday night and some uneasiness was felt at his home until he turned up Thursday morning safe and sound, about ten o'clock. His buggy broke down and he spent the night with a friend on the way, whose house was remote from a telephone.

Otho G. Lander, a young soldier just returned from a service of three years in the army, was arbitrarily denied his vote at the court house precinct by officers Campbell and Witty, who refused to even swear him. He was born here, left when a boy and has never voted anywhere else. He was legally registered by a clerk who gave Democrats the benefit of no doubts and the refusal of the officers to record his vote was an illegal proceeding. In the same precinct the challenger reports that one negro was allowed to vote whose name was not on the registration book.

At Hopkinsville No. 3 it was not possible for one clerk to poll all of the votes, using six ballot books, and the polls were crowded all day and eleven voters were in line when the polls closed, while in all about 50 were deprived of their votes. The last vote polled, the one that decided one of the contests, was that of C. E. Harris, a good Democrat.

The Republican runners who went to Pembroke had an exciting experience. They were caught buying votes, the rumor goes, and politely but firmly notified that if they were in town ten minutes longer it would be the duty of a gentlemanly officer to call upon them officially. They did not ask for an extension of time.

Will Murphy's race for Assessor was lost by the trading of votes in the Baker's Mill precinct, where his opponent, H. C. Helsley, lives. The Republicans are roundly abusing Helsley and several of the party leaders are expressing regrets that he got in by even a few votes.

The Republicans as a rule are very sore over the knock-out given the ring. They are talking of contesting the Democrats, but it is all a bold bluff. The Democrats know enough to keep the criminal courts busy for a year and there will be no contests by Republicans.

Bud Golay, Charlie Prowse and Stanley Long are making great preparations for their trip up salt river next week. It will probably be deferred until after the 15th, so they can shoot birds along the banks of the classic stream.

In Hopkinsville No. 2, where there are only 50 Democrats, the Democrats got more than 80 straight ballots. "The colored troops fought nobly."

The Big Stick and the Tin Can cut a great big figure in the races for councilman in some of the wards.

The city gave a handsome Democratic majority, ranging from 150 to 200 votes.

Rogers—Guynn.

Mr. Miner J. Rogers and Miss Mattie Guynn were married at Dover, Tenn., last Wednesday. The bride is an attractive young lady of Stewart county and the groom is a popular and prosperous farmer of Lafayette.
